"DEAR SIR: - I received yours of the 8th inst. late last evening, requesting me to state the events that occurred at the battle of the Thames, that came within my recollection, that have most interest to the public. The letter of Col. Dudley to which you allude I have not seen, nor have any of the numerons letters that I have seen given a true representation of the events that transpired in that part of the army in which I was placed, from Gen. Harrison's official report down to Col. Dudley; and the reason is. they were not there. I had the command of a battalion of the 2d regiment of Gen. Henry's division. After being formed in battle array, we advanced near half a mile, These days, in this respect, have a great when a heavy firing commenced, rather on is now no peace or quiet in the privacy of they would get there. Daniel Webster Petitioning Congress for the prohibition of Slavery .- We have before us a M. S. copy of a memorial signed by 117 citizens of Boston and its vicinity, and presented to the Congress of the Uaited States, on the 12th of January, 1820, praying for the prohibition of Slavery in all the United States Territories, west of the Mississippi. Among the signers of this petition are some of the most prominent Whigs of the present day: such, for instance, as Abbot Lawrence, Josiah Quincy, John Davis and DANIEL WEBSTER. Here then we have in black and white the signature of Daniel Webster to a paper, which goes the whole with the Missouri Restrictionists; which contends strongly for the power of Congress to prohibit forever the admission of new States where slavery exists; which contends for the power of Congress to prohibit the soil in the new States from being owned by any slaveholder whatsoever; which cries out ngainst the present basis of representation in Congress; and which calls for the immediate exercise of those powers. by refusing admission to Missouri and all new slave States! Yet of this document, the very intention of which is the widest publicity, the only copy we hear of in the world is that in the possession of the old contlement of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the Kentonian of the North Bank, Lexington, Ky., for the North Bank, Lexington, Ky. gentleman of the North Bend who was hoaxed by it.

We conclude that the handbill in question is a forgery of those who bring it forward. We have no sort of question that it is a whig fabrication of the same kind with that of the spurious Glentworth papers which appeared in the Commercial of Friday last, and were republished as genuine by the Philadelphia National Gazette. The first part of the fraud is the announment of the whig prints that such a fabrication is intended by the democrats. The second part is the preparation and publication of the spurious handbill in the whig prints.

MORE FORGERY. Fraud and forgery appear to be the chief weapons of our opponents. It has already been ascertained that numbers of counterfeit letters, purporting to have been written in favor of abolishing slavery in the District from this city to effect political ends; and plus revenue of the Union to the purchaso of days. The evidences of another instance of such nefarious villany. A letter bearing the name of Charles J. Intor, an abolition newspaper in this city, deof a "confidential committee of advice and correspondence," has been written to the dent, instead of Mr. Birney, the abolition and with false intelligence calculated to discandidate.

These documents, which bear the stamp of forgery on their face, are followed by a letter of General Harrison, dated Cincinnati, October, 1840, declaring the whole handbill, which he relates he had conveyed and that the whole matter is a base forgery on their face, are followed by a letter of General Harrison, dated Cincinnati, October, 1840, declaring the whole handbill, which he relates he had conveyed and that the whole matter is a base forgery at 10 o'clock.

of this morning declares the whole affair to be "a forgery and a knavish fibrication."

Indeed there is nothing to give the least probability to the notion that this handbill was got up by the democratic party. The only copy of it of which we hear any thing, it is altogether probable that the state of his health will not allow him to visit any of its larrison's letter.

RELICIES

ROM the residence of John R. Cleary, Main-street, Loxington, between the hours of three and four o'clock, on Saturday ovoning, the ISth of October, a BAY MARE,

About 15 hands high, a natural pacer, some white on one of her hind legs, had on a Spanish saddle, a pair of saddle bags, and a blue overcoat tied behind. She had not heen more than a coat tied behind. She had not been more than a few minutes tied to a post out-side of the house, when a negro man came up and untied her, and led her down street, he is described by those who seen him, to be lame, had on a blue frock coat and otherwise well dressed. A liberal reward will be given for the recovery of the mare and the other described property, and fifty dollars for the apprehension of the thief.

THE CITIZEN SOLDIER.

CIRCUMSTANCES not only of vast importance in themselves, but of the most vital consequence to individuals and to the nation in their results, have evidently combined to render indispensible the addition of a new Journal to the almost interminable list of American periode

That the public may rest assured of the salutary effect of these Pills, and the truth of the above statements, the following LETTERS FROM MEDICAL GENTLEMEN, of the first respectability are most respectfully submitted.

CLARKSVILLE, Mecklenburg county, Va. Feb. 7, 1837.

Dear Sir:—I embrace this opportunity of expressing to you, my pleasure at the unrivalled success of your Pills in this section of the country. It is a general fault of those who vend pattent medicines, to say too much in their favor, but in regard to your Pills, I am firmly persuaded that they deserve far more praise than
